How the cultivation network was organised

According to the published account, from at least the beginning of 2013, Beneš provided properties in the Czech Republic to members of the group, where cannabis nurseries were set up under his instructions and with his financial support. He is alleged to have provided transport for the movement of plants, equipment and processed cannabis. [1]

The profile does not describe a single shipment: Beneš co-ordinated the transfer of cannabis and seedlings, dispatched consignments to overseas couriers, accepted payment, and sometimes personally handed over the goods to buyers. It is precisely his organisational and financial role that sets him apart in this case. [1]

Sentence and international arrest warrant

His escape in Portugal was a separate incident that occurred after the criminal proceedings had concluded. The European record contains a photograph, date of birth and the convicted person's status; it was updated on 23 October 2026. The basis for the file is this individual record, not a coincidence of the name in a third-party publication. [1]
