From a joint investigation to individual charges

The FBI classifies the case as part of a joint investigation conducted between April and December 2004, which covered alleged drug trafficking and money laundering. Twenty-three people have been charged; Guzman’s file states that some of the suspects are still being sought. [1]

An arrest warrant for her was issued on 3 October 2006 by the US District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. A separate charge of money laundering is not specified in this individual record. The full range of charges against other participants in the proceedings cannot be applied to Guzman. [1]

Alias and photograph

Variants of her name in the source include Evelyn C. Guzman and Lillian. The FBI has published her date of birth as 20 August 1981, along with a photograph and details of her links to Mexico. The fact that her surname is Guzman does not confirm any family ties to the leaders of the Sinaloa cartel and does not constitute grounds for such a conclusion in the file. [1]
