Evidence from the postbox

The US Postal Inspection Service examined parcels similar to test orders placed with the seller BarbaraWhite. An agent's statement lists the criteria used by investigators to group the parcels, including the method of dispatch and recurring recipients. They linked some of the parcels to a single collection point in Jacksonville. It is this part of the investigation in the document that precedes the conclusions regarding Stanislav's identification.[3]

The Ministry of Justice believes that the seller was offering tablets disguised as oxycodone. In the batches examined, the investigation reported the presence of nitazene. The goods ordered via the online shop, the goods analysed by the laboratory, and the consignments that agents link to the same seller are documented in various investigation files.[1][3]

Stage of the case

Stanislav and his brother Vladislav were arrested on 28 August 2026. The US Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Virginia announced charges of conspiracy to distribute synthetic opioids. An agent's public testimony sets out the investigation's version of events. As of 17 November 2026, there is no record in the verified materials of a published sentence or a guilty plea by Stanislav in the Barbara White case.[1][3]

The case was included in the international TorNado report. The figures for this operation relate to activities carried out as part of several separate investigations.[2]
