Escorting after recruitment

According to the editorial source, Prokofiev has been working at ‘Khimprom’ for some time, is involved in identifying candidates to act as planters, and maintains contact with the recruited operatives. The source links this work to a group operating in Ukraine, Belarus, Russia and Georgia. The timeframe and specific details of Prokofiev’s activities have not yet been established from publicly available documents.

What the police have said about the detention of those recruited

In a statement dated 31 August 2026, the National Police of Ukraine described how the network under investigation imposed fines for breaches of internal rules. The agency also reported instances of violence and the unlawful detention of people who attempted to leave. Prokofiev’s name does not appear in the press release. The information regarding his role is based on a source’s account, and the editorial team has found no public notification of suspicion regarding this incident. [1]
