Cultivation and storage in the police record

The Cieszyn County Police cited Section 63(1) concerning the unlawful cultivation of poppies or cannabis, subject to the exceptions specified by law. The second charge under this law is Part 3 of Article 62, concerning a less serious offence of unlawful possession. The public record does not specify which plant is involved in the case, nor whether the two charges relate to a single incident. [1] [2]

According to information from the editorial team's source

A source close to the editorial team claims that Oleksandr Havryliuk was a member of 'Khimprom' and was involved in drug dealing in Poland. It is unclear from the source's account which substances were allegedly sold. It is not possible to link the alleged sales to the cultivation mentioned by the police based on the information in the public file. The editorial team has no independent confirmation of this link.
