Ilya Burdin

Other names: Butta

According to a source, Ilya Burdin heads the 'CHP' team operating within the '9999' system. [\[1\]](#)

The article attributes to him the management of office staff and involvement in a conflict in Lviv. The author also cites complaints about working conditions; these complaints are not presented here as established legal facts. [\[1\]](#)

The source refers to Burdin's team as 'ChP'. The article describes internal relations with staff and staff movements between competing teams. This helps to distinguish between a stated affiliation with a particular office environment and the assumption that all the individuals mentioned

Further reports describe personnel movements within “Butta’s” inner circle: the work of teams in Odessa, Ivano-Frankivsk, Lviv and Dnipro. These reports relate to different individuals and periods. They do not provide grounds for considering all the cities listed as branches of a single office operating simultaneously. [2] [3]

This material has been prepared by the editorial team’s analysis department based on collected publications. The roles and connections described are based on information from the source; the mention of an individual does not imply their guilt or current legal status.
